Dick Russell's coming JFK assassination book, Carroll & Graf, for December.

From time to time, last time last night, Dick has been in touch with me on this book. Those things I could remember that he wanted I sent him.

He is convinced that - my, I can't remember a name I know very well- the guy who said he robbed a bank in Texas to be in jail at the time of the JFK assassination because he knew it was coming and wanted a solid alibi so he could not be blamed for it.

Dick is satisfied he told the truth and that as I recall is the center of the book.

The guy survived the disintegration of an old Electra over the Baltimore area. At as I recall about 10,000 feet, too.

Many other weird and unusual things about him.

Dick says that C & G are excited about his book.
